

AUSTRIA'S GARDEN OF EDEN

Experience the unbeatable charm of Southern Styria at Golden Hill Country Chalets & Suites, where architectural beauty, private wellness spaces and stunning views create an unforgettable retreat in Austria's green heart.

The Golden Hill Country Chalets & Suites are synonymous with true luxury, affording guests a slice of paradise and some of the best hospitality that Austria has to offer. Located in the lush parklands of Southern Styria, this dreamlike refuge is a mere 25 minutes from the cultural capital of Graz and serves as the embodiment of the ultimate guest experience, particularly for those seeking a relaxing and romantic break that contrasts the stresses of day-to-day life. Founders and hosts Andreas and Barbara Reinisch radiate enthusiasm and distinction across their services, and as a result of this excellence, Golden Hill has been lauded with a multitude of awards, including being named Austria's Best Hotel for a Romantic Getaway in 2024.

Boasting five exclusive country chalets, one premium chalet and one panoramic Loft, Golden Hill is the result of two dedicated hospitality entrepreneurs putting in their all and creating something truly magical, aided by unspoiled views as far as the eye can see in every direction. The level of privacy that one is provided at Golden Hill is unmatched, with moments of pure bliss scattered throughout this getaway

TRAVEL

« truest sense of the word, and an equal level of magnificence is on display at every turn, no matter the season. The unquestionable luxury of this hotel is as sustainable as it is superlative, with resources being saved wherever possible without impacting the experience of guests one bit. After all, Andreas and Barbara also appreciate the finer things in life, and their big hearts, dedication to going above and beyond, and expertise in all aspects of hospitality make them the perfect hosts to guide guests through their unforgettable stay.

The accommodation itself is the crown jewel of this fine establishment, and beginning with its five exclusive luxury chalets that can each hold between two and six people, architectural mastery and exquisite attention to detail is immediately apparent the second that one steps through the door. Crafted from solid wood and adorned with natural materials throughout, each chalet comes equipped with a private wellness area comprising a spa bath and sauna. Just outside is an area that can only be described as an oasis, encompassing a natural swimming pool, fitness area, and many private pockets ideal for sitting and soaking up the gorgeous landscape.

Those in pursuit of absolute perfection may find themselves staying at Golden Hill's Chalet Steppenfuchs.

The country chalets feature spacious bathrooms with fireplaces; the panoramic Loft is home to an infinity pool with sweeping views of the surrounding parkland; the premium Chalet Steppenfuchs flows seamlessly from indoor to out.

This premium, cosy refuge is as modern as it is timeless, inviting nature in through its terrific use of glass that expertly strikes a balance between bathing the space in tremendous views while retaining the privacy of those inside. Finished with a heated ten-metre-long infinity pool that offers refreshment in summer and warmth in winter, this chalet also boasts a wellness terrace. The private spa area gives guests the chance to shower outdoors, take a plunge in the whirlpool or use the panoramic sauna, all while surrounded by the sights of Austria's remarkable countryside.

Perhaps the best choice for those craving the ultimate romantic getaway would be the final accommodation option at Golden Hill: the Loft. This stunning former stable building is now a modern and picturesque 300-square-metre loft apartment, signifying the skilful blending of contemporary luxury with nature, all situated in the middle of the site to offer unparalleled views. With highlights such as a private spa, natural swimming pond, infinity pool, terraced vineyard, outdoor lounge area and terrace, private garage, and park, one would be hard-pressed to find a better option for that idealised couples' retreat.

Wherever a guest chooses to stay at Golden Hill Country Chalets & Suites, wish-fulfiller Barbara and Director of Happiness Andreas will be on hand to provide those all-important finishing touches, from delivering private dining experiences in the comfort of one's own chalet to tours of the grounds' terrific vineyards. With hosts like these, a picture-perfect landscape and unadulterated luxury at every turn, it is no surprise that Golden Hill Country Chalets & Suites continues to garner well-deserved acclaim. 1
